

AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

Grant County News.

N. Wilson and R. L. Sweek are expected to arrive from Heppner tomorrow with the iron pipe for the water works. The work of digging the old main is now in progress and the new main will be installed at once. This will be a great improvement as it is sure to give satisfaction.

Campbell, who has spent the last month on Butter creek with sheep and Matthews' sheep, reports that an enormous flock of sheep and about 5000 head of cattle have been fed this winter in the creek country for the spring. Stock in general are looking better in that country.

George Irvin returned Monday from an inspection trip for the year at Long Creek country. This was his annual inspection of the county stock. Mr. Irvin reported that one band in the vicinity of Long Creek that showed indication of scab. He adds, "The stock in general is in a very good condition. This makes the hands of sheep in the entire county that are affected with scab, they have about all been dipped. The raid on horse rustlers continued. Wednesday warrants were issued out of Justice Rea's court for John Doe, whose true name is known; John Tribbitt and Geo. W. the latter of whom just received a one year's sentence in the penitentiary, charging them with the larceny of a 2-year-old mare owned by George Irvin, who swore the warrants for their arrests."

Justice Rea accompanied by C. F. DeFord accompanied by Irvin, arrested J. A. Steach today, who had the mare in his possession. He gave bonds to the amount of $200 for his appearance in Justice Rea's court Monday. The others have been arrested.

Leviston Normal Growth.

rapid has been the growth of the Leviston Normal school that the trustees have decided to ask the legislature for an appropriation of $20,000 to build an addition to the school in the form of an east wing. The salaries of the principal and janitors, together with running expenses, such as Training School for Horses.

One hundred head of untrained horses. I am located for the Dutch Henry feed yard, at Alta and Little streets, to conduct a first-class training school. If you want to buy the best horse for you, or if you want to sell I am well equipped with the best buyers. I am equipped to break and handle horses from the finest blooded to the wildest and most desperate. There is no horse but I can break and be made to drive nicely if he be handled correctly. I have broke one hundred and three head in Pendleton, some of which had become desperadoes. I give satisfaction in every case.

WEALTHY ROMANS.

Immense Fortunes Were Not Uncommon in the Old Days.

When L. Calpurnius Piso was appointed governor of Macedonia for one year, he drew for his outfit from the public treasury 18,000,000 sesterces, or $150,000. He did not want the money for that purpose. Everything required by a proconsul was supplied to him by the province. Piso simply took the money for himself and lent it out in Rome at high interest. C. Verres was charged by Cicero with having robbed Sicily of $350,000 in three years, besides many valuable works of art. He practically admitted his guilt by retiring from Rome without attempting any defense. Cicero when governor of the poor province of Cilicia found himself the richer in one year by $20,000, and he was perhaps the only proconsul who ever handed over his surplus to the state.

There can be no doubt that Cicero and the younger Pliny received large sums from their clients while those clients were still living. Balbus is not likely to have secured the argument "Pro Balbo" for a mere trifle. And the gratitude of Verres undoubtedly took a very substantial form. Apart from all such honoraria, it is recorded that Cicero and the younger Pliny received legacies from clients to the amount of $170,000. Gibbon tells us, on the authority of Olympiodorus, that several of the richest senators had an income of $100,000 a year without computing the stated provision of corn and wine.

ROYAL ASCOT.

This Famous English Race Course Was Queen Anne's Idea.

Ascot well deserves its proud prefix "royal" for it may claim to be the child of a queen, and certainly it has been a prime favorite with nearly all her successors on the throne. It was Queen Anne who, when she was riding one day over Ascot common, saw what a splendid site it would make for a race course, and she forthwith determined that a course there should be and that she herself would offer a plate to be raced for. Thus it came about that the London Gazette of July 12, 1711, contained this announcement: "Her majesty's plate of 100 guineas will be run for found the new heat on Ascot common, near Windsor, on Tuesday, Aug. 7 next, by any horse or mare, being no more than six years old the grass before, carrying twelve stone, three heats, to be entered the last day of July at Mr. Hancock's at Fern Hill, near the starting post."

Three times that year Queen Anne traveled in state to see the racing on Ascot common, and on one occasion, we are told, she was accompanied by Miss Forester, a maid of honor, who was "dressed like a man, with a long white riding coat, a full flapped waistcoat and a small cocked hat, three corners, bound with broad gold lace, the point placed full in front over a white powdered, long flowing periwig."
